

Top Health Care Organization

in the U.S.

A survey of 285 medical executives ranked Kaiser Permanente as the top health care organization overall for thought leadership, innovation and patient care.

Reaction Data, a research organization, surveyed health care executives about the health care landscape. Questions included, “How familiar are you with this hospital organization and how favorable is your opinion of them?” and “Which hospital organizations come to mind as a model of innovation, thought leadership, and providing quality care at a sustainable cost?”

> This is the second year Kaiser Permanente has landed in the top spot